SUBJECT: Removal of Fuel Specification from Test Method

During the December 17, 2020 Sequence VIII Surveillance panel conference call, the panel agreed to remove the KA24E fuel specification from the test method. The specification is now maintained on the ASTM Test Monitoring Center website. Section 7.6 has been updated to remove the reference to Annex A17 and include a reference to the TMC website. Also footnote 2 has been updated to reference the Test monitoring Center Website.

These changes are effective with the issuance of this letter.
