c. The 155-2 information runs

out the best course of action going forward to move to the new T1XX hardware batch. We will have a conference call in June with the Statistician's group to get their input on a good way to move forward.

- d. Adding the Raters last workshop date to the report template
  - i. The ASTM procedure currently says that a rater must have attended a rating workshop within the last 12 months for the test to be considered valid. The committee is considering adding the L33-1 test to the Rater Calibration System (RCS) system and giving calibrators an expiration date based on the workshop date.
  - ii. This will be discussed at the future conference call after the labs have had time to discuss internally what is currently being done regarding workshop attendance.
- e. Critical Parts list
  - i. The committee ran over on time, so this discussion was postponed until the August LRI meeting.
- f. L33-1 Test hardware Specifications
  - i. For the last 2 batches of Axles purchased from American Axle & Manufacturing (AAM), the committee has not specified any requirements such as dimensions, coatings, or meteorology. Going forward having requirements will allow more consistency between batches of hardware, so we will get into contact with AAM to see what information they are willing to release regarding build specifications for the T1XX and K2XX hardware.

IV. Additional Discussion / Business?

- i. None

V. Summary of Action Items

- a. A conference call will be set-up for mid-June to discuss with the Stats group the best way to approve the 155-2 oil for the new re-blend. We will also discuss adding the last rating workshop the rater has attended to the report.
- b. Troy will take the AAM part numbers for the L33-1 test axles and see what information regarding specifications, dimensions, meteorology and anything else AAM is willing to share to keep on file for future order comparison.
- c. All labs will talk to their raters regarding workshop attendance so a discussion can be had regarding a rater expiration date and adding information regarding the last workshop attended to the Report.
  - i. A meeting will be set-up for beginning to mid-march to discuss if we can move to a single rating workshop a year, to know if raters always attend the same workshop a year and if the ASTM procedure needs to be changed to allow more than 12 months between workshops or if 12 months is sufficient.

VI. Adjourn:

Motion: Wes Venhof

Vote: Unanimous

Thank you,
